About the Conference

English Literature is not merely an impression of life, but its landscape is embedded with socio-political, socio-cultural ethos. It has taken on new dimensions across different concepts in different ages. Beginning with the intellectual freedom of the Renaissance; the order and reason, revival of classical antiquity of the Neoclassical period; the beauty, individualism and the literary simplicity of the Romantics; the socio-political resurgence of the Victorian age; and the self-conscious break of the modern with the traditional, Literature form flower cluster in the literary oasis. The intentional level of literature is not feckless with pleasing the readers but prudent enough to rejuvenate the society and resuscitate the lost glory of humanity as well.

On the other hand, language is the repository through which the galaxy of writers, with their fine frenzy ingenuity, spin their yarns of thoughts into a fine fabric of literature. Throughout the twentieth century, the English language teaching tradition changed dramatically. ELT Methods and Approaches, their lacunae, untangle the complexity, providing an overview of considerable developments and their repercussions, both historically and pedagogically, are paramount in the contemporary literary scenario.

This conference aims to confluence the Literati, Academicians, Research Scholars, Professionals and students to explore and broaden the horizon of learning by creating a wider critical canvas by augmenting language's enhancement through literature and vice versa with innumerable innovative ideas.
